But now there is prayer of Senator Harlan and Bishop found great difficulty in getting the Simpson. This Mr. Harlan took occa-House of Representatives to vote money required to further earry out this treaty, legally made. It seems to us that there is a fair question whether the House has a right to refuse to carry out this treaty.

A WITTICISM OF ANTHONY TROLLING.

A WITTICISM OF ANTHONY TROLLING. If it fairly has such a right, then the novelist, heard the Washburne-Donnely treaty making power must reside as debate, the other day, and a day or two much in the House as with the Senate and executive. If it fairly has such a right, then it may as well refuse to pay the expenses of officers who may be appointed to arrange any treaty of peace, purchase, etc. And, again, if such is the newer or the rightful way of the senate as with the Senate and executive. If it fairly has such a right, then it may as well refuse to pay the expenses of officers who may be appointed to arrange any treaty of peace, purchase, etc. And, again, if such is the newer or the rightful way of the senate and a day of two after day, and a day of two and a day of two after two suffers a gentleman on horseback passed after a gentleman on horseback passed A nervous debility, and premature decay and all the effects of youthful miscretion, will, for the sake of suffering humanity, send free to all who need it, the receipt and directions for making the simple reacely by which he was cured. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's experience, can do so by addressing, in perfect confidence, JOHN B. OGDEN.

"Certainly," responded the gentleman, the horse bespattered the Englishman with mud. The gentleman refuned up and apologized. "No matter, sir," said Trollope, "but I who need it, the receipt and directions for making the staple reacely by which he was cured. Sufferers wishing to profit by the advertiser's experience, can do so by addressing, in perfect confidence, JOHN B. Alaska may not be worth seven millions of money; but native the seve tional honor and the preservation of for good faith is worth more. The treaty, under the circumstances, may have been injudicious; but the House should not insist upon doing a double wrong, one to Russia, and one to the treaty making power, that the wrong may be

The Times says the 11th article was almost too vague for a substantial charge, but the vote upon if corrects the fear of any party bias and shows the case to have been judged upon its merits.

The Morning Telegraph says: "Dignity and decorum have marked the whole trial, and the non-removal of the President is a most fitting close. Even the most ultra Radicals will be compelled to admit this at no distant day."

The Standard says: "The Radical plot has been beaten and the country been saved the shame of deposing its Chief Magistrate for refusing to obey an illegal act of Congress,"

New Publications.

The Atlantic Monthly for June pre- IRON, sents as usual a good literary feast for its numerous readers. Among the noticable articles are "Beauty of Trees;" "The Talmud;" "Abyssinia and King Theodore;" "The Discovery of Etherization;" and the usual variety of stories and po-Fields publishers, Boston.

The Galaxy for June came out ahead SEEDS of most of the Magazines, and contains an article on "Forced Marches," by. J. W. DeForest. The conclusion of "Steven Lawrence, Yeoman," is reached, and an appreciative criticism is furnished by Mr. Eugene Benson. A poem by Miss Phœbe Cary, a story by Henry James, Jr., the continuation of BARNES' BLOCK, LAKE ST. 'Marian Harland's story of "Beechdale,' a wonderful story about Wyandotte Cave by Mr. F. M. Gray, an article on "Railway Management" by Mr. Edward Howland, and other contributions make up an excellent number. The last number of Littel's Living Age, containing twelve excellent articles selected from the wide range of Engish publications, is a capital one. Besides the stories, which are among the best, there are articles on Sir Robert Napier, Chesapeake & Baltimore Oysters Mohamedanism, History of Voting by Ballot, Naturalism, The Irish Church and American Civil War, etc. It is published weekly, at $8 per year, by Littell an Gay, Boston.
